

The background image is a photograph of a natural landscape. In the foreground, a river flows over dark, wet rocks, creating white, frothy rapids. The water is turbulent and energetic. In the middle ground, the river continues towards a calmer section. The background is filled with a dense forest of tall, green trees, likely pines or spruces, under a soft, overcast sky. The overall mood is peaceful yet dynamic, reflecting the 'rippling waters and quiet lakes' mentioned in the text.
